DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-37, drawn to a method of testing fiber strength, classified in class 65, subclass 377.
- II. Claims 38-49, drawn to a method of threading a fiber, classified in class 226, subclass 7.
- III. Claims 50-51, drawn to a fiber drawing apparatus, classified in class 65, subclass 486.
- IV. Claims 52-55, drawn to a method of changing spools, classified in class 226, subclass 1.
- V. Claim 56, drawn to A method of controlling winding, classified in class 65, subclass 381.
- VI. Claims 57-58, drawn to a method of removing bad fiber, classified in class 65, subclass 433.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (I, II & IV-VI) and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used to practice another and materially different process, such as a double crucible process or a process where a high-temperature superconducting filament is made.

Inventions (I & IV-VI) and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a method of threading in a sewing operation. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions (I & V) and (IV & VI) are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as a field operation of reducing the amount of fiber on a spool - by creating two spools each being of half the length of the original. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require adjusting the tension being applied. The subcombination has separate utility such as a method where the tensile screening tester is for screening Poisson ratio - not strength.

Inventions VI and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require an aspirator. The subcombination has separate utility such as winding fiber that still has fiber that is out of specification.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Robert Carlson on 1 April 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
